Nature reserves are not enough!

Chris Packham's UK BioBlitz comes to North Wales 20th July 2018

TV presenter and naturalist Chris Packham is to come to North Wales, as part of the first independent audit of its kind in the UK involving Citizen Science. His goal is to highlight the extent to which the nation's species are under threat.

On 20/07/2018 he'll be coming to Cemlyn, Great Orme and Pensychnant, three of 48 sites across the country he'll be stopping off as part of his UK Bioblitz – nature reserves are not enough! Campaign.

Chris's UK Bioblitz – nature reserves are not enough! Campaign has a serious purpose, as the results of the 2018 audit will be recorded to create a benchmark: this will help measure the rise and fall in numbers of different species on these sites in the future.

The campaign is also Crowd-funding with all monies raised being distributed back into grass roots front-line conservation projects they've visited throughout the campaign, as well as The National Autistic Society.
